Being Son of Genius
Doesn't Make Genius;
Heredit Like Poker

THE death of Frau Cosima Wagner, widow of the great composer, may have been announced before this is read. In the fullness of time, it was inevitable. Of more permanent interest is the problem of heredity it suggests.

Frau Cosima was the daughter of Franz Liszt and the wife of Richard Wagner, than whom there are no two greater figures in the short roll of supreme musical genius. There is a son, Siegfried Wagner, who is thus the heir of genius on both sides. It is almost as if John Milton had married the daughter of William Shakespeare, and a son had been born to them. And the son is a competent musician. He has talent; not genius.

THIS you may be interested to know, is strictly according to the rules of the game. Scientists have reduced heredity to a mathematical formula. By this formula, talent is usually, and genius almost never inherited.

The figures of it are high-brown and the names are Greek—"genes," "chromosomes," and the like—but there is a way of translating it into American,

Genius is scarce for the same reason that a royal flush is. It is a unique combination, which is no more likely to turn up a second time in a deck where it has been dealt once than in any other deck. But talent is any combination of mostly high cards.

Stack two decks, one with nearly all high cards and a few low ones, and the other with many low and few high ones, and you have a fair picture of good and bad inheritance. Nearly all the hands you can deal out of the one deck will be high-card ones, with an occasional exception, like the black sheep in a good family, while most of the hands out of the other deck will be the exact reverse. But a royal flush will scarcely come twice out of a deck before the cards are worn out—and it may come once out of any deck with the necessary cards in it, no matter what the other cards are.

This, reduced from chromosomes to aces and deuces, is the exact scientific reason why both talent and stupidity are usually, but not always, inherited, while genius almost never is.

Legislators Fear Women

SCORE one more for women suffrage! The first of this year's legislatures to act on the child labor amendment was that of California which ratified it as its first act, by nearly 10 to 1, on the fourth day of its session. And some of the legislators frankly avowed that their precipitancy and unanimity were due to fear of the women voters.

If these women did not vote, and were not organized, their lobby might have been treated at best with condescending politeness. As it was, they scarcely needed even to argue the matter. Legislators fell like each other, in the rush for the band wagon.

This is quite as it should be, in a democracy. The band-wagon legislator is, to be sure, not the highest type, and the California legislature contains many of the better sort who do right from conviction. But if any representatives are to take orders from anybody—let it be from the people. And no better expression of the real will of the people could be found than the voice of fine, organized women, who know how to persuade gently, but are not afraid to hint at the big stick.

Calls Himself a "Liberal"

NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER, in his newest book, defines himself as a "Liberal." Which, by his own definition, he doubtless is. Nobody is a "reactionary" except to his enemies. And "progressive" and "conservative" are both terms of praise, if you mean them that way.

After all, the important things are the Golden Rule, to keep us fair, and the Truth, which shall make us free. Whoever is willing to grant to others the rights which he claims for himself, and to be denied himself the privileges of which he would deprive others; who seeks truth in facts and not in phrases, and acts on the truth, rather than the interest or prejudice—he is the citizen we need and the leader we can tie to, whether we call him by one name or another.

Loeb-Leopold Educates Public

IT turns out that the Loeb-Leopold defense attorneys got a fee of $130,000. It was worth it, to the families, of course, to keep the stain of hanging off their escutcheon. It was worth it more, for the opportunity in a conspicuous case, to educate the public in the modern knowledge of crime as a fact to be studied as well as a wrong to be avenged.

The culprits in this case are, of course, properly segregated for life. But the people also know better than they could have learned in a generation of learned, psychological lectures, that there are crippled souls, legally sane but medically abnormal, whose existence is a problem as well as a wickedness.

Grand Jury Exonerates County Officials

CHARGES BY LEADERS OF KLAN FOUND GROUNLESS

Report of Investigating Body Says Officers Have Done Their Duty

CLAIM INJUSTICE IS CAUSED BY SPEAKERS

Declare Myers and Starbuck Are Chief Authors of Wild Accusations

In A SPECIAL REPORT, notable for its cool and dispassionate form of expression, the Orange county grand jury today characterized locality charges made by Klan leaders against public officials as wholly groundless and responsible for "much injustice."

While carrying an appeal for public recognition of the facts as developed by its investigation, the grand jury report retained a purely judicial and impersonal tone, in the opinion of its readers. Its outstanding characteristic was earnestness, rather than condemnation.

The report took no cognizance of the hooded order and confined itself strictly to the question before it—whether public officials had done their duty. It found that accusations to the contrary were unfounded.

Point to Myers and Starbuck.

Charges hurled by the Rev. Leon Myers and William Starbuck at various public meetings were thus discounted to the vanishing point. Naming Myers and Starbuck as chief authors of the accusations, particularly with reference to the district attorney's office, the report stated that their statements were found to be merely hearsay and without any corroborative evidence.

The dead man and the two injured are Los Angeles residents.

The accident occurred when Durbin's view of the track ahead was obscured by dense clouds of smudge smoke, arising from citrus groves in the vicinity. The freight train was proceeding at a rate slower than the express train.

Durbin was pinned beneath the wrecked controller car. Workmen labored with acetylene torches to reach him, but he was dead when they got to his side.

KILLED WHEN ELECTRIC CAR HITS FREIGHT

RIALTO, Cal., Jan. 14.—Motor man C. Durbin, 40, of a Pacific Electric express train running between San Bernardino and Los Angeles, was killed early today when he piloted his electric engine into the rear of a freight train four miles west of here.

Conductor B. F. Mann was bruised, while E. Wallace, an express messenger making his first run, was internally injured. Wallace refused to leave his post until he was relieved by another messenger.

The dead man and the two injured are Los Angeles residents.

WOODEN ARM' RUM VENDOR ARRAIGNED

Three of the five Mexicans arrested Monday night in a raid on a "restaurant" at Los Alamitos, in which Fernando Ochoa, one armed man, who carried a bottle of alleged whiskey in his artificial arm, were arraigned in Justice Kenneth E. Morrison's court here today.

Ochoa was charged with selling intoxicating liquor. Bail of $1000 was set which he could not meet, and his preliminary hearing was set for February 10. At the same time, the two women, Rosa Garcia, 29; and Micalle Lopez, 21, arrested in the raid, will be tried on vagrancy charges. Their bail was fixed at $100 each.

Two other men, Frank Lopez and Carilliano Ramirez, who were arrested during the raid, are being held in the county jail.

Efforts on the part of the sheriff's office to locate Constable Delo Artesia, who reported to officers here that four men, who are thought to have purchased whiskey from Ochoa were in a serious condition from the effects of drinking the whisky, were unavailing today.

Report received today by Jesse Elliott, deputy sheriff, was to the effect that the four sufferers were white youths. Mrs. Delo Artesia, said, that one of the youths was at Bellflower, in a critical condition, and that three others youths, who are supposed to have tasted the poison are seriously ill at Redondo.

JULIAN TO ENTER BAY CITY FIELD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The Julian Petroleum corporation, headed by C. C. Julian of Los Angeles, will enter the wholesale and retail competitive field here within thirty days, according to an announcement made by Julian.

This marks the third oil company to announce invasion of the San Francisco bay field in the last few months. The others are the General Petroleum company and the Pan American company.

Julian said his company would start immediate development of the Half Moon field south of here, recently acquired for $250,000 and would spend $1,000,000 building filling stations and storage facilities here and in Oakland.

'Pick up Dolly', Pleads Girl, Fatally Hurt

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—"Pick up my dolly, please, she's hurt," sobbed 4-year-old Wilma Johnson, as she lay pinned under the street car that had run her down.

"Oh, she's broken," said the little girl. Her own legs had been crushed, but the doll's condition was her chief concern.

While physicians amputated the crushed limbs of the child and fought to save her life, nurses glued the broken doll together and just before Wilma died her mended "baby" was placed in her arms.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Edward S. Ward, and three fellow operatives of the Anti-Saloon league were arraigned and required to post $500 bail each, pending their preliminary hearing February 6 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Edward S. Ward, chief of the league's secret service department and husband of Mrs. Beverly Ward, one of the defendants, accompanied them into court, and arranged for their bond.

In a statement to newspapermen Ward called the charge a farce and said that he and his aids not infrequently encounter similar situations wherever they operate. They were hopeful of quashing the charge at the preliminary hearing, Ward said.

Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Jessie Wall, her husband, E. R. Wall, and Frank Martin, who were engaged in securing evidence of liquor law violations prior to the recent liquor raids in this county, are charged with contributing to the delinquency of Ivory Shields, 20-year-old Santa Ana youth. Martin Shields, the boy's father, preferred the charge. According to testimony of the operatives themselves, given at the Shields' trial here, on a possession charge, they induced him to purchase some gin for them.

Ward, their chief, stated today that when the preliminary examination of the operatives is held, he will present the defense that the operatives had no way of knowing the age of Shields, and that he will further offer evidence to show the character of the youth.

Questioned regarding his opinion of conditions in Orange county and of the charges by some of those associated with him in the recent raids that public officials were lax in enforcing the liquor laws, Ward declared that Orange county is no worse than other sections in the matter of liquor law transgressions. He also declared that he had no complaint to make regarding public officials and said that he had always been accorded full co-operation by the officials of this country.

PLAN NON-STOP FLIGHT WITH HUGE AIRPLANE

British Fleet to Sink Old Warship

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Jan. 14.—The British dreadnaught Monarch which was built in 1911 and participated in the battle of Jutland, was towed out to an uneventful spot in the Atlantic today to be sunk by gunners of the British Atlantic fleet in connection with the admiralty's secret experimental tests. The Monarch is the last British warship doomed to destruction under the Washington treaty.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 14.—A super airplane, larger than any ship now in existence, will be used to attempt the first non-stop flight from California to Hawaii next April, according to word from Washington today. The airship is nearing completion in Seattle now.

The U. S. S. Langley, aircraft carrier, now stationed here, probably will accompany the gigantic plane on its historic flight. It will serve as a medium for communication between the plane and the destroyer escort line. The flight will start in San Diego, local officers believe.

Plans for the Hawaiian non-stop flight were presented several months ago, but held in abeyance by the secretary of the navy pending construction of the new plane.

French Specialist Tells How to Lose Excess Fat Without Exercises, Habit Forming Drugs or Painful Garments

"If you are to 100 pounds overweight you can easily and safely lose all that fat," says a French specialist. "For years I suffered with high blood pressure and heart trouble due to 60 pounds of excess fat. I was weak, sickly, hopeless, and all my clothes fit me, and I was thoroughly disgusted with life until I found SAN-GRI-NA." SAN-GRI-NA is a marvelous discovery!

I know that a great many fat men and women are going through the same experience as I did, and for their benefit I am glad to explain what I did to reduce and how they can easily do the same. You just take one tablet each week without any danger. Go to any good drug store and get a package of SAN-GRI-NA, remember the name, and just eat it, accept anything else, as nothing like this has ever before been offered to the American public.

SAN-GRI-NA, the formula of a French physician, has been used in Europe in private practice, where enormous success has been had with it. Simply take two tablets before each meal and watch your fat disappear. You will feel better, you should feel greater pep and energy. No more tired feeling. SAN-GRI-NA is guaranteed healthy and safe and positive to relieve you or your money is refunded. Remember that is all I did to rid myself of 60 pounds of excess fat.

It is now available in America and we can sincerely recommend it to any fat man or woman. On sale at White Cross, Kelley, Parsons, Mateer's or Hadden-Jean Drug Stores.

U. C. REGENTS WILL INSPECT SITES OFFERED

Regents of the University of California will personally inspect sites offered for the Southern Branch and will meet in Los Angeles on February 10 and make selection of a location, according to word reaching here today from San Francisco, following a meeting of the board held in that city yesterday.

Action of the committee clearly indicated that choice of the site for the branch had not been delegated entirely to a committee of Los Angeles men.

During discussions on the subject Governor Friend W. Richardson said he would not be influenced by the recommendation of any committee and that he would make personal inspection of every piece of property offered. Declaring that the regents are responsible to the people of the state, the governor urged that regents visit the sites and suggested that in making a selection the individual should use his or her best judgment for the good of the people.

The suggestion of the chief executive was followed by the board voting to make personal inspections and to decide on the site on February 10.

Two sites in Orange county are before the regents, one at Fullerton and one at El Toro. Each site will contain 1,000 acres. It is understood that owners have volunteered to give 700 acres within the city limits of Fullerton. It is proposed to float a county bond issue of sufficient size to purchase the additional 300 acres. The site at El Toro is offered by Dwight Whiting free.

Other points having offers include Burbank, Chino, Covina, Glendale, Los Angeles, Monrovia (2), Oceanside, Oxnard, Michillinda, Riverside, San Diego (3), San Fernando (2), Santa Paula (2), Ventura and Whittier.

Gets Religion; Asks Prosecutor For Forgiveness

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Religion has brought a confession from Frank Cantrell, 347 Monroe street, Portland, Ore.

In a letter received by District Attorney Asa Keyes, Cantrell said he had been "saved, converted and born again," and now wants the local prosecutor to forgive him for "rolling" a roommate here in 1917.

Keyes said the statute of limitations had made prosecution of Cantrell impossible, but suggested that he seek forgiveness from the man he robbed.

CHINESE CONTINUE LOOTING WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Extensive looting and burning in and around Shanghai in connection with the new Chinese civil war is reported to the state department by American Consul General Edwin S. Cunningham.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Jan. 14.—Death toll in the Southern California Edison company explosion of Monday was brought to four with the death late last night of Milton Davis, assistant chief engineer, who succumbed to burns incurred in the blast.

Davis was the only employee of the Edison company injured or killed in the explosion, the others being workmen for the construction company completing the new plant.

The coroner's jury which conducted an investigation of the accident late yesterday returned a verdict that it was caused "by leaving open certain valves into the fire box by some person unknown to this jury."

GAME COMMISSION MAKES ITS REPORT

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14.—Reapportionment was injected into yesterday's session of the assembly when Assemblyman Thomas L. Dodge of Los Angeles introduced a skeleton bill calling for the redapportionment of the legislative districts of the state along constitutional lines.

Another measure presented by Dodge was a bill prohibiting dual nominating petitions. Persons running for governmental or state office would be required to file their nominating petitions in but one party unite.

FIND FARMERS' LIVING COSTS $1600 YEARLY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Living costs the average American farmer with a family $1,600 a year.

A survey by the U. S. Department of Labor of typical farm families, the man, his wife and two or three children, in Iowa, Ohio and Alabama, arrived at this approximate figure, according to statistics just made public.

The average cost of living for Iowa farmers who owned the land on which they lived, arrived at by a survey of 212 families, was $1,875.90, of which the farm furnished $756. The average of 239 tenant families was $1,506, of which the farm furnished $645. Families with hired men spent $1,431, of which $589 came from the land.

In Ohio, 233 land-owning farm families average $1,586, the farm furnishing $663 of this. Tenant families averaged $1,444, families with hired men $1,243.

The fish and game commission is one of the self-supporting departments of the state government which was included in the separate budget delivered to the legislature yesterday by the governor. Accomplishments of the commission as listed in the report include:

1. Land and sea patrols maintained to prevent violations and conserve fish and game resources.

2. Over 2700 arrests for violations of fish and game laws.

3. More than 56 1/2 million trout and nearly 35 1/2 million salmon brood in state hatcheries and planted in the streams of the state.

4. Development of the pond system at Mount Shasta hatchery so that brood fish now furnish ten million eggs annually.

5. Numerous surveys made preliminary to erection of fishways over dams.

6. Control of the worst enemy to deer, the mountain lion, continued.

7. Other developmental, educational and game conservation work.

The costs in the other groups were similar except that a larger percentage was spent on food by the farmers who spent less per year.

Another series of surveys covering seven states taken during the last four years, gives somewhat similar figures over all classes of land-owners and tenants studied together.

Delaware county, Ohio, where 332 families were studied, showed an average annual expenditure of $1,540, 41.5 per cent of this coming from the land.

Mason county, Kentucky, where 360 families were studied, had an average of $1,614, the farm furnishing 40.7 per cent. Other selected Kentucky families averaged $1,801.

In New York, an average of 402 families in Livingston county was $2,012, with 36.2 per cent coming from the farm.

Selected localities in Iowa averaged $1,669, the farm furnishing 41.1 per cent.

Selected localities in Tennessee averaging $1,122, of which the farm gave 41.1 per cent.

Selected localities in Texas, covering 322 families, gave an average of $1,452, of which the farm furnished only 33 per cent.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

BLACK-AND-WHITE

Custom is not necessarily correctness. One is comically reminded of the governmental officer, who sent to observe the customs of a far-off tribe, reported back, "No white man can swallow their customs, but, according to them, they nearly swallowed me." Just because something is done a certain way is no surety that it is the right way. Didn't Herbert Spencer, the dean of philosophers, write:
"The fact is disclosed by a survey of the past that majorities have been wrong."

Nowhere but in the United States is the turn-over, double-band collar to be seen with semi-formal evening dress, which Americans are addicted to calling "informal evening dress," though there is no such thing. Black-and-white is a ceremonious or quasi-ceremo-nious color theme; always was; always will be "till the sun grows cold and the stars are old and the leaves of the Judgment Book unfold," as the ancient Bedouin song runs. Black-and-white prescribes the wing collar only. Regardless of what you may get away with, you cannot get away from the fact that nothing else is good form.

Laterly, fashion has sanctioned the white waistcoat as permissible with Tuxedo dress. Personally, I prefer the black waistcoat, because it draws a line of demarcation between strictly formal and semi-formal evening dress. However, white is being worn by some men principally, one supposes, as a relief from and a rebellion against tiresome tradition. Wear the black or the white waistcoat, as strikes your fancy, but be certain that you choose the wing collar to accompany it.

The white linen or cotton waistcoat, illustrated here, shows the oval-shaped front opening having a collar that tapers from narrowness to broadness and that projects below the front button of which there are four. The deep seys (armholes); the waist snugness and the slightly pointed bottom corners are familiar fashion features.

Although the batwing or butterfly tie is the form most popular,
the smarter shape now is rather straight and square, rounded or pointed tips. Besides the plain-front shirt, you may wear the narrow or broad-pleated bosom, but it should be crisply starched to keep fairly smooth. Either one or two shirt studs are proper, according to the best effect.

AMERICAN NATIONAL NAMES DIRECTORS

With resources of $934,594 and deposits in excess of half a million dollars, the American National
operations under its old officers and board of directors, following their re-election at the annual meeting of stockholders held at the bank yesterday afternoon.

The officers and directors are Fleetwood Bell, president; M. D.
Clark, vice president, cashier and manager; John W. Norton, vice president; E. B. Covington, Sterling Price, J. M. Cloves and W. H.
Hodell. J. L. Hey and L. A. Oleson were named as assistant cashiers.

The American National has not as yet become officially a branch of the Bank of Italy, it was pointed out today by Clark, although this is a possibility of the future.

The cashier said that whether the bank would become a branch would depend on the action of the national congress with reference to the McFadden-Pepper bill, which in its present form, prohibits member banks of the federal reserve establishing branches except in cities for which a charter is issued to the parent institution.

The Bank of Italy is a member of the federal reserve and would come under jurisdiction of the provisions of the McFadden-Pepper bill should it be passed.

Neighbors of Woodcraft will hold installation of officers in the M. W.

o'clock. A large number of Wood-pected to be present.

Surprise Is Staged
By F. A. U. Members
At Supper Party

Fraternal Aid Union members planned and carried out a very pleasant affair Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCord, 610 Orange avenue. A large number of the members entered the home uninvited and after their hosts had overcome their surprise, proceeded to arrange a pot-luck supper of one delectable dish after another.

Everyone enjoyed the supper and laughed about the surprise, but there was more to follow, for Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren who had entered into the plans with all enthusiasm, discovered they too were victims when a handsomely decorated wedding cake was presented them in honor of their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Warren were each presented with pretty corsage bouquets and many good wishes were extended. The merry evening was passed in the enjoyment of games and the good fellowship of the occasion.

W. C. T. U.

Meeting yesterday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church parlors, the W. C. T. U. held an interesting session presided over by Mrs. M. M. Tibball.

Mrs. J. H. Nickolson gave a graphic report of the trip to the Home of Soldiers and Sailors at San Diego when the Christmas packages were taken for distribution among the boys.

Discussion followed on the best methods of raising the state budget of 75 cents per member (which must be raised in the next few weeks). Pledges were given by some of the members present. Mrs. Warren announced the county executive meeting to be held in Garden Grove, Friday, January 30, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Fannie Lash had a devotional service on the subject of flowers.

Mrs. J. H. Scott had charge of the program and introduced Mrs. A. H. T. Taylor, matron of the Ebell Day Nursery, who gave a most interesting and encouraging account of the splendid work that is being done there. Donations of anything that can be used, will be gratefully received.

Installation of officers of the Santa Ana union was conducted by Mrs. Fannie Lash.

The next meeting will be the Frances Willard program and will be held at the home of Mrs. Maud Winbigler, 209 East Ninth street.

On the following day another group of old friends were entertained in the Golding home, this time at luncheon followed by an afternoon at bridge. The honor guests were Mrs. H. G. SPEEDERS' FINES OF WEEK DWINDLE

Fines against speeders in Justice Kenneth E. Morrison's court dropped almost 100 per cent this week, compared with last week. Only two persons faced the judge this week in answer to speed tickets presented to them. H. H. English of Chino, pleaded guilty to speeding 45 miles an hour near the Irving ranch and paid a fine of $45.

Herbert Wheeler, charged with speeding 50 miles an hour, and also charged with reckless driving, was given five days in the Orange county jail. He said he had no money. Wheeler lives at 1589 West Forty-ninth street, Los Angeles.

One other alleged speeder sent Justice Morrison a check for $45, in payment of a fine. He was George R. Emory, 203 Columbia Place, Los Angeles. In a letter to Justice Morrison, he explained he was forced to borrow the money.

Last week, five men were sent to the Orange county jail on speeding charges and a total of $1168 was collected in fines from alleged speeders and "cutters in."

PENALTIES NEAR ON CITY LICENSES

Persons who do not secure their city licenses by 5 p. m. tomorrow, face possibility of paying a 10 per cent penalty, according to a statement today by E. L. Vegely, city clerk.

A city ordinance which has been in effect for several years requires all city licensees to be procured on or before January 15 of each year.

Persons applying for new licenses must present the city clerk's office with figures showing gross receipts for the year 1924 on retail or wholesale businesses. New licenses cannot be available unless these figures are filed with the application.

Tomorrow is the last day that city licenses can be obtained without payment of the penalty for being late, and the city clerk's office was being overworked today, in order to take care of tardy business men who have waited until now to secure their new licenses.

"There are always a few people who disregard the time limit set for the obtaining of new licenses, and I suppose there will be a few this year who will have to pay the penalty," said Vegely, today.

Musician Out of Tune
"Gas pressure in my stomach sometimes distressed me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and twice lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try Mayr's Wonderland Remedy, and I am now enjoying the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—

Newly-Weds Surprised
When Friends Gather
At Their Home

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND WORLD PEACE DISCUSSED

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ballentyne, a pair of happy young people just getting settled in their newly-established home on Custer street, were taken completely by surprise in that home last Saturday night, when a little group of close friends gathered to serenade them with all the noise-producing instruments associated with an old-fashioned harvardi.

The wedding of the young people was an event of Thursday, January 8 at the First Christian church where the Rev. F. T. Porter read the marriage service. Mrs. Ballentyne was formerly Miss Ella May Griffin, daughter of Mrs. Nichols of Custer street. Mr. Ballentyne, who is connected with the Christopher company, made his home with his mother, Mrs. Marcella Ballentyne, on Lucy street. The groom's sister, Mrs. Willis Hunt, was the only attendant at the wedding.

At the merry party Saturday night, the guests were laden with other things besides the bells and horns as was proven when a variety of gifts were showered on the honorees. These included all manner of attractive articles from their home as well as many amusing joke gifts.

Games and music helped to enliven the evening and at a late hour the enjoyable refreshments which were thoughtfully provided by the merry-makers, were served.

Enjoying the delightful affair with Mr. and Mrs. Ballentyne were Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Brothers, Mrs. Ballentyne sr., Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Reese, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, Mr. Hall and Mr. Ollie Brothers.

Talented Members of Music Section Give
Pleasant Program

Meeting at the Ebells club where their business session was held on the auditorium stage, the Music section members shared an interesting afternoon with many guests Monday after conducting the usual study and discussion hour.

Miss Leonora Tompkins served in her capacity as president and "America the Beautiful" was the opening song. The study book of the section was called into service and the chapter on melody and harmony was discussed. Questions were asked by various interested members and Mrs. Mit Phillips, Mrs. Theo. A. Winbiger, Mrs. Rollo Hayes, Miss Preble Drake, Mrs. C. T. Wells and Mrs. Herbert M. Sammis took turns in quoting the book in reply.

Each answer was illustrated by a strain of music played by Miss Tompkins with the exception of one which called forth vocal answers by Mrs. Sammis. She sang very charmingly "Goin' Home" by Dvorak and "I'll Not Complain," a German number.

The entertaining program was then given with Ebells members gathered for the second social afternoon, as interested guests. It was declared that the remarkable program has seldom been equalled and never surpassed in Santa Ana.

It opened with a magnificent rendering of the four movements of Chopin's B Minor Sonata, played by Miss Mabel Krause in masterly fashion. This was followed by a song group given by Mrs. Sammis who chose Wolfe's "Tis Spring," "Romance" by Debussy (sung in French), "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" by Hayden and "Zeitung" by Strauss (German), giving each with a degree of expression and charm that is always expected from her as a vocalist.

Miss Maurie Hamil delighted her audience with two well-interpreted Debussy numbers, showing a rare appreciation and understanding of the modernists. The selections were "Gardens in the Rain" and "Prelude."

The next number was a vocal group sung by Mrs. F. W. Slabough whose lovely voice seemed peculiarly well adapted to the nature of the Indian group she gave. The songs were all Charles Wakefield Cadman compositions and were "The White Dawn is Stealing," "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," and "The Moon Drops Love."

Miss Tompkins then introduced a talented piano pupil of her own, Miss Lois Allen, a 15-year-old pianist whose future holds promise of big things and who expressed that promise in her rendering of "Hark! Hark! The Lark," by Hubert-Luszt. Mrs. Slabough then concluded the program with two more of her delightful solos, "The Sleep That Flits in Baby's Eye" by Carpenter, and the exquisite "Fulfilment" by Woodman.

Find Bookmaker Must Pay Taxes On His Winnings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—A race track bookmaker must pay income on his winnings as they are "gifts," the United States board of tax appeals held today.

James P. McKenna, Louisville, Ky., bookmaker, must pay taxes on net taxable income of $14,000 for 1919 and on $12,652 for 1920, the board ruled.

Income taxes must be paid on earnings from illegal occupations as well as those occupations approved by law, it was held.

STRESS INSURANCE FOR THRIFT WEEK

The place of Life Insurance Day in National Thrift Week is being clearly shown in an entertaining feature sponsored by the local association of underwriters, it was learned today at "Thrift Week" headquarters, Y. M. C. A. building.

This is a one-act playlet entitled "The Heart of the Estate," written by Louis Ullman, of Los Angeles, as a graphic representation of the part that life insurance plays in the affairs of a family after the death of the wage earner.

The cast of characters includes: Guy Gilbert as John Watson, the attorney for the estate; Mrs. Jack Olivari as Mrs. Edna Morton, widow; Miss Armine Crawford as Katherine Morton; J. B. Hodgen as George Morton; R. G. Cartwright as William McGrath, special trust officer.

The scene is laid in the safety deposit section of a bank, and represents incidents connected with the opening of the strong box left by Mr. Morton, the deceased. It is a striking presentation, and the situation is cleverly handled by the well trained cast.

The first rendering of the playlet was given on Monday evening at the meeting of the Life Underwriters' Association of Orange County. It is scheduled for next Tuesday's meeting of the Santa Ana Rotary Club, for Thursday at the Orange Rotary, and Friday at Huntington Beach Rotary. Other dates are being arranged, and it is anticipated that a large number of people will get the idea during the Thrift Week period.

Juvenile Officers Locate Runaways

Through prompt action on the part of the Orange county probation office, two girls, who escaped from the county juvenile home Monday night were apprehended in Los Angeles yesterday and are being held there, according to word received by R. R. Miller, county probation officer, late yesterday.

Miller stated that he would go to Los Angeles today to return the girls to Santa Ana. Both are Seal Beach girls, he said.

SUCCESS WEEK SPEAKER TALKS ON CHARACTER

With growing interest and increased attendance, the "Success Week" program at the Y. M. C. A. scored heavily on the second night's showing last evening. Mr. Carlson, the "Success" lecturer, was in fine form, and held the absorbed attention of his audience for more than an hour as he dealt with the principles of adaptation and character analysis.

It was an hour full of inspiration and help to the crowd of ambitious people who are taking their evenings this week for self-improvement. Tonight's lecture promises to be equally attractive, when Mr. Carlson takes up the qualities of leadership and points out the ways to improve one's natural equipment.

On account of other engagements, including the Toastmasters club and the prayer meetings in the churches, the lecture this evening will begin at a later hour than usual, but Mr. Carlson will be present at 7:30 for a period of consultation and informal discussion of questions that are raised by his hearers. Those who would like an opportunity to talk over with him some of the points that have been raised on character building will be welcome for this period.

Only two more lectures remain after tonight's session, and those who desire to get any of the benefit of this course, offered free to the community by the Y. M. C. A., should not fail to take advantage of these.

"Character analysis is a practical business expedient," said Mr. Carlson last night. "Every good salesman uses it, whether consciously or unconsciously. He must size up his prospect and build up his line of approach accordingly. The selling method which will work with one man will completely fail with another. If you are to sell, you must know how to read your customer. You must think ahead of him, and instill into his mind the thoughts that you want him to think, and then your sale will be made."

Last night's lecture was alive with interest, and filled with humor, as Mr. Carlson depicted the various types of character, and his humorous style inspected their faces, heads, fingers and other character betraying features. Tonight will bring a message of equal interest, and will no doubt attract a crowd that will tax the limits of the lecture room.

Chinese Divided Over When Their New Year Starts

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Chinatown is all worked up over its New Year.

One faction insists that the new year starts January 23, the other favors January 24. Four Chinese language newspapers support one faction, while the other side has the support of one.

As the new year calls for payment of debts and liquidation of all obligations, the matter is so important that requests have been cabled to authorities in China to arbitrate the dispute.

School and College News Of Santa Ana

With the semester elections coming on, the politicians at Santa Ana high school are mapping out their campaigns in close secrecy. Reports from either camp are as scarce as grand jury information.

It seems that the two parties are laying their plans to take the other faction by surprise. The Liberals, already the victors of one encounter when they placed their candidate, Victor Walker, in the office of commissioner of forensics, are at work strengthening their organization by uniting the school leaders for their support.

The Labor party, after suffering a signal defeat at the hands of the Liberals, has apparently passed out of existence. When they came up for their test of strength in the commissioner race, they were conceded even by Liberal managers to hold the best chance for winning. The candidates were eliminated to two, George Decker, football star for the Laborites, and Victor Walker, senior class president, for the Liberals.

A bombshell broke when Walker was elected by a vote nearly double that of his opponent. From it the Labor group has never recovered and it seems that they have emerged with an Independent party.

The Independent group is the organization which is to oppose the Liberals in the coming election. Under the leadership of Don Hillman and Gardner Waters, they are working out secretive measures for the campaign.

In their platform, the Independents have included practically the same planks held by the former Labor party. The biggest argument between the Liberals and Independents is on the qualifications of athletes for student body office.

Athletic prestige increase a student's ability as a leader among his fellows, the Independents contend.

"Leadership on the athletic field develops leadership off the field," they say.

The Liberals will not go so far as to declare they oppose electing an athlete to a student body of officials, but they are aiming to break what they term has been the traditional custom of the school that has made it impossible for a student other than an athlete to win the presidency.

"By carrying a football up the field, a student does not prove his capacity to fill a school office," Liberal leaders assert.

Indirectly the political parties have served to arouse the interest of the students in school affairs. By taking sides, the students have injected in the campaign the spirit of rivalry, friendly, but nevertheless opposing.

In certain phases the party activity resembles that of the national contests. The program calls for caucuses to select candidates, nominations from petitions at assembly, and resulting elections. Both parties intend to put a full elective ticket in the field.

Junior college also has its politics. Petitions have been in circulation during the last week leading up to the nomination assembly next Wednesday. A party known as Independents is backing a ticket of students for office.

According to one of the party leaders, Robert O'Brien, the organization candidate for president, is Virgil Dunkin, present vice president. Others are John McCoy for SAN BERNARDINO—Nearly 300 cyclists, the young and the old, rode in the "Safety First Bicycle Parade" here, led by Fred St. Onge, nationally known cyclist. In the line were bicycles of the early days of cycling, gayly decorated mounts of the youngsters and the latest designs of bicycles. The parade went through the downtown district, the riders demonstrating the safe way of riding through the traffic.

WHITTIER—At a meeting of the board of directors of Whittier college, another step in the expansion program was authorized.

The Liberals will not go so far as to declare they oppose electing an auditorium and music hall, an athlete to a student body of officials, but they are aiming to break what they term has been the traditional custom of the school that has made it impossible for a student other than an athlete to win the presidency.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST OF SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA ANNOUNCES A

Free Lecture on Christian Science

by

JOHN W. DOORLY, C. S. B.

OF LONDON, ENGLAND

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts,

in

THEIR CHURCH EDIFICE, at 920 North Main Street,
THURSDAY EVENING, January 15th, 1925

AT

EIGHT O'CLOCK P. M.

THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED.

FLAG SALUTE DATA WILL BE PUBLISHED

Calumet camp, United Spanish War Veterans, is making plans for the issuance of a full-page article in the Brea Progress giving the officially proper salutes and methods of paying respect to the Stars and Stripes of the United States.

The camp committee, composed of Patriotic Instructor Robert H. Lee, Past Commander Charles E. Waffle, Officer of the Guard William Kelsey, and W. E. Fanning, principal of the Brea schools, met at Brea on Thursday and Friday evenings, and decided to obtain the necessary cuts for illustrating the article. Copies of the edition will be sent to every camp in the Department of California and to every patriotic society in Orange county.

Two thousand copies of the article on the flag will be printed on white cardbord in blue and red ink, which with the white background, will make the national colors. These cards are to be placed in the home of every comrade of Calumet camp, in every school room and library in Orange county, and are to be sold to the comrades and camps of the state.

American Legion posts of Orange county will participate in this distribution, and assist Calumet camp officers in editing a page of the paper printing the article.

LINES WILL OFFER CHEAP RATES WEST

Announcement has just been made by the railroads that the transcontinental lines will make low round-trip summer excursion rates to California during the coming summer.

The selling date for the excursion fares will begin May 15 and be in effect every day during the summer, until September 30 with final return limit October 30. Stopovers will be allowed at points en route and tourists may come by one route and return by another if they so desire.

The fares this summer will be the same as last year, being only a fraction more than one fare for the round trip. The round trip from Chicago will be $86 with correspondingly low fares from practically all parts of the United States and many points in Canada and Cuba.

The granting of these low round-trip fares means a large influx of summer tourists this summer, according to local railroad officials, and will be stimulated by large advertising campaigns in the east by all the railroads.

FINE PRINCIPALS IN LAND SWINDLE

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—After ten years of litigation, the famous Everglades land swindle case has been wiped off the books.

Federal Judge Cliffe disposed of the case by placing fines on four officials of the Everglades Land company when John A. Zane, special assistant attorney general, entered a nolle contendre.

The Everglades swindles, at the time of its discovery by postal inspectors, was heralded as one of the largest fake land promotions ever uncovered. More than 5000 persons were victimized.

The men fined are: William A. Otis, $2500; Harold J. Bryant, millionaire Lake Forest society man $2500; Percy Hagerman, $1500, and William Greenwood, $1000.

A mysterious angle was added to the case when Zane is said to have advised federal building attaches that Washington had requested that no publicity be given the action.

The quartet of defendants are said to have sold 65,000 acres of land in Palm Beach county.

Most of it was under water, it was charged.

REPORT U. S. GOLD. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—For the first time in four years, the huge gold supply of the United States has begun to dwindle.

The federal reserve board announced that exports of gold were larger in the month of December than the imports.

The $110,000,000 Dawes plan loan to Germany was a powerful factor in overcoming the trend which was threatening to concentrate the world's gold in this country and render foreign countries unable to buy American goods.

Withdrawal of gold from this country does not indicate a reversal of the general prosperity which caused the gold to come, it was pointed out.

Many native women in the Philippines are practicing lawyers, doctors or dentists.

60 ENROLL FOR TRAINING AS SCOUTMASTERS

With 60 men actually enrolled and more scheduled to sign up this week, the scoutmasters' training institute opened in the American Legion home last night. The next meeting will be held Tuesday night.

At 6:30 o'clock dinner opened the institute last night. The principal speaker was Charles N. Miller, regional executive of the Boy Scout organization. He spoke on "The Fundamentals of Scouting and the Boy."

Three patrols were formed last evening and another probably will be organized next week, according to Roland E. Dye, scout executive for Orange county. Karl Parks Fullerton, was elected senior patrol leader. Leo Sheridan, Anaheim; J. E. McKim, Anaheim, and G. E. Morris, Huntington Beach, were chosen patrol leaders. Harold Goddard, Orange, was elected scribe.

The men enrolling will be given a thorough course in scout work. The entire course is free and any man in the county who is interested in boys is invited to communicate with Dye in the Hill building.

Members of the executive board present were President G. W. Finch, Fullerton; Waldo Kelly, Fullerton; E. E. Smith, Anaheim; H. B. Van Dien, Santa Ana; H. G. Nelson, Santa Ana.

Brief News of Courts and County Officers

Charges Desertion

Charging desertion, Edwin A. Honey, of Orange, was plaintiff today in a suit for divorce from Margaret Honey, the action being on file in the superior court. Attorney D. G. Wetten represents Honey.

The complaint sets forth that the Honeys were married July 21, 1919, and that the alleged desertion took place January 19, 1923. Some time ago Mrs. Honey was awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce, but the case was appealed.

Would Break Contract

Claiming that land in Riverside county, acquired in an exchange for La Habra property, was misrepresented to them, Guy W. Wells and Aurora M. Wells had today filed suit in the superior court to rescind the contract by which the trade was made.

They exchanged income property at La Habra for 40 acres of land under the Palo Cedro Irrigation district, Claire and Isabel Culp being the other parties to the transaction. The Celps and their agent, G. C. Moore, were made defendants in the law suit. The Riverside county land was not producing an income, but was represented, they said, as having perpetual, paid up water rights.

They later discovered that the water rights were subject to tax and assessments of the Palo Verde Irrigation district, they said.

To Quiet Title

A group of land owners in the Yorba Linda district today had a suit on file in the superior court, to quiet title to their ranches, as against an oil lease held by the Keystone Oil company, F. W. Black and George Clarke.

Plaintiffs in the action include R. J. Scott, R. H. Scott, John C. Scott, W. B. Hunter, George S. Lynn, and Lillian K. Taylor.

Goes On Trial

Juan Ruiz, accused of firing a shot at George Travis, Fullerton negro youth, after an alleged attempt to hold up Travis at Buena Park November 19, went to trial today before a jury in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Ruiz was said to have been one of four Mexicans who stopped Travis' car. Travis first thought they were officers but when one of them leaped on his machine's running board, he realized his error and sped away. A shot was fired after him.

Change of Venue

Harry Reece, Los Angeles motorist, who is charged with driving his car at a rate of 45 miles per hour, prefers not to appear before Justice K. E. Morrison.

He secured a transfer of his case today to San Juan Capistrano, in which township the arrest took place. The state motor vehicle law provides for such transfer, if desired by the defendant.

Two other motorists are said to be contemplating such a move, the court announced today.

"Guess they don't like our medicine," the judge commented.

Desertion Charged

In a suit for divorce on file today in the superior court, Jessie Hartman charged her husband, E. E. Hartman, of Roseburg, Oregon, with desertion. She asked custody of a daughter and $50 per month for the child's support. Another child is with the father.

The Hartmans were married at Enid, Oklahoma, in 1906. They separated May 16, 1921.

Selecting Jury

Gus Barkau, of Orange, was on trial today before a jury in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. This morning's session was devoted to the selection of a jury, and witnesses would not be summoned before this afternoon, it was said.

HIGH PRICE OF FEED HURTING DAIRY OWNERS, SAYS STANLEY

Necessary For Dairymen to Cut Cost of Production, Bureau Manager Avers

SURVEY MADE HERE IN 1922 IS CITED

Farm Bureau Is Requested to Conduct Educational Meetings In County

By A. M. Stanley
Secretary-Manager Orange County Farm Bureau.

The recent increase in the retail price of milk has again called to public attention the dilemma of the dairymen. With the price of feed still going up and the price received for milk having been reduced, the dairymen are finding it difficult to make both ends meet.

For these reasons the result of a dairy survey conducted by the Orange county farm bureau some three years ago should be of particular interest at this time, especially to the dairymen. This survey was conducted from an impartial standpoint and fifteen or twenty representative herds of the county were investigated to determine the cost of production of butterfat. In that survey it was found that the cost of production ranged from sixty-one cents a pound to $1.30 per pound for butterfat, with an average of ninety-three cents. It was found during the survey that this wide range of production costs was due to several factors, but principally due to the health of the herd. The investigators found that wherever the dairymen had permitted his herd to get off the breeding schedule his cost of production ran exceedingly high.

This survey included all the cost of dairy management, including the salary of the manager, feeds, etc. While, of course, feeds were much cheaper at that time than they are now, the average cost of ninety-three cents per pound for butterfat is three cents higher than the present price. It then appears that the average dairymen is losing three cents on every pound of butterfat that he produces. A survey conducted by the State University placed the average cost of production at ninety-seven cents a pound butterfat or even higher than that of the Orange county average, and it would appear that the dairymen are even losing more than three cents per pound.

To the layman these figures might appear Greek unless they knew that the price of milk is set by the amount of butterfat or the small globules of fatty material which the milk contains. This fat content is determined by a scientific test and upon the percentage of fat the price of milk is determined. All milk does not have the

BUT BOSSY'S BOSS IS BOSS

Isn't this just the irony of fate? Imagine as pretty a Jersey cow as this one having a fine chance to get herself photographed for this newspaper—and then, of course, some inartistic farm hand had to begin pulling on the rope to lead her out of the role of art model to that of filler of milk bottles.

OVERHEAD PLAN VILLA PARK TO OF IRRIGATION ELECT CENTER TO BE STUDIED HEADS TONIGHT

A special field day is being planned by the agricultural extension service in co-operation with the citrus growers' department of the farm bureau on Tuesday, January 27, for the purpose of observing results that have been secured by overhead irrigation systems already installed. There is a rapidly increasing interest in overhead irrigation and a number of persons are contemplating installation for the coming season.

Willard Smith and James A. Smiley will report on the visit of the windbreak committee to the Fontana ranch. D. Wetlin, assistant district attorney, will speak on "The Planting and Maintenance of Windbreaks." L. D. Palmer will talk on "The Effect of Frost Damage on the Marketing of Citrus Fruit." H. E. Wahlberg, county farm agent, will speak on "Windbreak Management."

It is expected that definite action will be taken on the proposed plant. The trip will take the growers to La Habra and include two or three installations in that vicinity. The trip will take the growers to La Habra Park, where two or three systems of several years standing will also be examined.

Details of the itinerary will be announced later. The trip is being arranged at the special request of the Garden Grove Farm Center. Growers from other parts of the county are invited to attend.

CHERIMOYA IS RATED RAREST FRUIT IN SOUTH

Brother of Willard Smith Has Interesting Article In Point Loma Magazine

In the December number of the Theosophical Path, a magazine published at Point Loma, and which is devoted to the study of modern ethics, philosophy, science and art, Orange L. Clark, who is a brother of Willard Smith, well-known citrus grower of Orange, has a very interesting article pertaining to the Cherimoya, which he claims is one of the rarest fruits grown in the Southland.

Mr. Clark's article is especially interesting to growers of citrus fruits, in that it frankly discusses the progress made in establishing the cherimoya in California, and its possibilities in the future.

Mr. Clark is in charge of the gardens of the Theosophical Institute at Point Loma.

His article, in full, is as follows:

"More varieties of fruits can be found in the gardens and orchards of California than are grown in any other country in the world. Among these one of the rarest as yet is the cherimoya (anona cherimola), also called custard-apple, produced on trees of broad-leaved, luxuriant beauty, which are planted in some of the gardens and a few small orchards in frostless localities from Santa Barbara southward to Mexico. Except a few of the most recently planted of these, practically all are seedlings from unselected seeds and most of them have produced but few fruits, of very poor or uncertain quality. However, during the past few years, enterprising nurserymen and horticultural experts have discovered a few very superior trees producing more and better fruits ripening from December to April. From those trees they have propagated new varieties by budding and grafting. One of the new varieties is called the loma and is being propagated for home use by student-orchardists from a large tree on the grounds of the International Theosophical headquarters at Point Loma.

"In the extensive experimental orchards on these grounds a number of the new budded varieties have been planted and are being studied and tested. From the behavior of these improved varieties there it is certain that when they, and probably others, become more generally known, they will entirely displace seedling trees and a much wider interest may be expected in this fruit. But commercial plantings cannot safely be made until productive and suitable varieties are well proven.

Cherimoyas Superior

"These Point Loma orchards are producing over 200 varieties of the best flavored and most productive fruits in the world. None are here considered superior in taste to the station. Growers are asked to invite their neighbors and fill their machines.

FAIR MAID INSPECTS HUGE CELERY FIELD

PLAN VISIT TO CITRUS STATION ON JANUARY 30

The annual pilgrimage to the citrus experiment station by citrus growers of Orange county will be held on January 30, according to announcement today from the office of H. E. Wahlberg, county agricultural agent. It was the original intention to make the trip on January 16, but owing to the closing of the Santa Ana canyon road the date has been postponed. Dr. J. T. Barrett, director of the experiment station, has issued a general invitation through the Orange county farm bureau to all growers who may be interested in various phases of citrus culture that are being carried on at the station.

Special emphasis will be placed on the study of fertilizer plots and the results that have been obtained from the work thus far. Other plots that will be visited will include pruning, cover crop, variety and root stock experiments.

The itinerary of the trip will start from Olive at 8:30 o'clock. All cars will be properly marked so as to identify those participating in the tour. At 8:30 sharp the cars will leave for Riverside, where the first stop will be made at the Rubidoux station.

Growers are invited to bring a basket lunch. Arrangements have been made for luncheon tables at the experiment station. Those who do not bring their lunch can get accommodation at Riverside during the noon hour.

Several guides will be provided by the experiment station to take the crowd through the various experimental plots. Citrus growers are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to observe the experimental work that is being carried on by the station. Growers are asked to invite their neighbors and fill their machines.

TWO OFFICERS CRASH INTO FALLEN TREE

When a tree between Walnut and Pine streets, on Cypress street, was cut down yesterday afternoon, it fell across the street. No lights were put on the tree to warn motorists of the obstruction. As a result, two city police officers, R. H. Barnard and B. A. Hershey, are confined to their homes today from injuries incurred when the car in which they were riding crashed into the tree at 6 o'clock last night.

Barnard and Hershey were answering a call on Cypress street when their car ran headlong into the fallen tree. Branches of the tree cut Barnard about the fact and his neck was wrenched. Hershey suffered several dislocated fingers and a wrenched arm. The car was damaged.

Mrs. Davis Is Happy to Get Back on Farm

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 14.—Heart-sick and saddened by the arrest of her husband on the day he retired from the governor's office, Mrs. Mollie Davis, wife of former Gov. Jonathan M. Davis, prepared to leave here with her family for their farm down in Bourbon county, Kas.

"I'm glad it's over; I'm happy that we are all going back to the farm."

This was the farewell given to the state capital of the former first lady of Kansas, whose husband and son are under $10,000 bond each after their arrest on charges of receiving a $1250 bribe in payment for a pardon for a paroled convict.

Mollie Davis—"good natured Mollie" as she was known to nearly everyone—was leaving Topeka after five days of crushing humiliation and sorrow—the last five days her husband was in office.

"I didn't want to come to Topeka in the first place. I objected to Jonathan getting into politics and I had not listened to his pleadings to move to the executive mansion. I wouldn't ever have come down. I left the farm against my better judgment," said the woman who took her cow to Topeka from the farm and who did most of her housework in the executive manage.

CELERY CROP ON BIG IRVINE RANCH TOTALS 150 CAR LOADS

Orange County Product Is Shipped to All Parts of U. S. and Canada

HARVESTING WORK BEGUN YESTERDAY

Company Expects to Begin Cutting Cauliflower In About 10 Days

The celery crop on the Irvine ranch will approximate 150 car loads, it was learned today from a representative of the company. Harvesting of the big crop began yesterday.

The celery produced on the Irvine property is sent to all parts of the United States and Canada. Several car loads have already been sold. There is a heavy demand for celery this year, it is understood.

The company has 150 acres planted to celery. Between six and eight cars are loaded daily. The boxes in which the celery is packed are made on the field by skilled contract workers.

The entire crop will be harvested by the end of next week, it is anticipated. The cauliflower crop will be ready January 25. Cabbage will follow the cauliflower.

The majority of the celery acreage of the Irvine firm is located near Tustin. Indications are that this year's crop will be slightly larger than the yield last year.

ANAHEIM FARM CENTER NAMES NEW OFFICERS

Raymond Neblung, formerly farm advisor of Riverside county, was elected president of the Anaheim farm center at last night's meeting at the Anaheim high school. William Panner was named vice president and George Vandenberg secretary. J. B. Eaton and T. F. Shea were elected directors of the farm bureau.

L. W. Fluherty, specialist in farm economics, has been invited to deliver a talk on "The Trend of Farm Prices" at the center's meeting on January 28. All the farm centers of the county will be invited to the gathering.

The Anaheim organization voted to send a troop of Boy Scouts to the El Toro center meeting on January 24.

117 MEMBERS OF BROTHERHOOD MEET

A joint meeting of the Brothers of the First Baptist and First Presbyterian churches was held last night at the First Presbyterian church, with 117 present. The Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church served the dinner after which the meeting was turned over to the visiting brotherhood, with W. C. Childers president of the Baptist brotherhood, in charge. The meeting was a return visit which the Baptists were paying to the Presbyterians for a like courtesy about a year ago.

The program was in charge of Kemper Taylor, and was given by the visiting brotherhood. It consisted of a solo by Master Lawrence Patterson; a violin solo by William Taylor, accompanied by his wife, Dr. Otto S. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist church, gave the address.

—and No Place to Go!

We find ourselves, almost without realizing it, a nation on wheels.

We drive or ride in 16,000,000 motor vehicles.

We pack the paved highways coming in and out of town. We over-run even so-called remote regions. And we are pounding to pieces all but permanent roads.

Next year 4,000,000 new cars will be on the road. Compared to this increase, the mileage of new permanent roads will be insignificant.

We don't want to be a nation on wheels, with no place to go.

The answer is, build more, and where necessary, wider concrete roads—and start building them now.

Not in a long time have general conditions been so favorable for carrying on such public works as permanent highway building.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support.

BIBLE GLASS NOT BEHIND NEW PETITION

Petitions are being circulated in Santa Ana, asking the Santa Ana board of education to grant the Rev. Leon Myers, Anaheim preacher, and William Starbuck, leading dry advocate of the county, permission to speak at the Santa Ana high school building on Friday night, January 23, it was learned today.

That the petitions have not been fostered by the Men's Community Bible class of Santa Ana, as is rumored, is borne out by a statement today by Herschel Clayton, secretary of the class, who has one of the copies of the petition. "Some of the boys with petitions are members of the class and some are not," said Clayton. "It is not the class that is circulating the petitions, but individuals."

W. B. Martin, president of the class, stated today that the class did not foster the petitions, and that he as an individual had not signed the petition. "I am willing to stand by the decision made by the board of education several days ago," he said.

The petitions have approximately 40 signatures at present, and according to Clayton, will be turned over to Alex Brownridge, president over of the board of education, late today.

The petition merely asks the board to grant the dry leaders a chance to speak in Santa Ana.

The petition also "promises" to the board that the gathering shall be non-sectarian, non-political "and that no personal animosities will prompt the gathering."

Action will possibly not be taken on the petition today, as a special meeting of the board will have to be called in order to get prompt action. The board has twice in the past several weeks refused to grant the Rev. Mr. Myers and Starbuck permission to use the building, on the ground that they were not residents of Santa Ana.

S. A. BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT ON JANUARY 20

Patrons of the Community Music-Drama association were today reminded that the next number of the entertainment series of the winter season was due soon, when they were apprised that tickets would soon go on sale at the Santa Ana Bookstore for the concert by the Santa Ana Municipal band, scheduled for January 20 at the High School auditorium. Directed by D. C. Cianfoni, the Municipal band has been a leading factor in the city's musical life since its conception and formation last year. A. Dula is manager of the organization and Harry Hanson is president.

The first concert was hailed as a delightful musical event and the second one to be presented shortly promises an even more interesting program and a more finished performance.

Assisting the band members will be a group of prominent Santa Ana vocalists who will present quartette and sextette work from famous operas. The assisting artists will be Marie Bishop, soprano; Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, contralto; Ray Miles, tenor; Dr. L. L. Collins, tenor; Robert L. Brown, baritone and Maurice Phillips, bass.

The program to be presented is as follows:

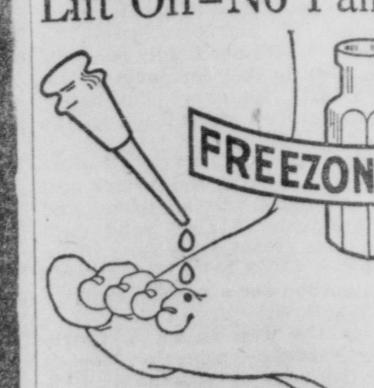

March, "Old Comrades," O. Telke; selection from "The Red Mill"; Victor Herbert; characteristic, "Oriental Patrol," Orlando; "Quartette from Rigoletto," Verdi, sung by Marie Bishop, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Ray Miles, Dr. L. L. Collins, Robert Brown and Maurice Phillips; characteristic, "The Midnight," Carlini; overture from "William Tell," Rossini.

LOCAL SCHOOL PAPER GAINS RECOGNITION

"The Junior College News" is the name definitely accepted for the new six-page Santa Ana junior college paper which is now a full-fledged student publication since it has become united with leading sectional colleges through membership in the Southwestern Inter-scholastic Press Association.

The organization has on its roster colleges in the states of Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Southern Utah, Southern California, and the territory of Hawaii.

Santa Ana junior college holds the distinction of being the only two-year institution admitted to the association. It was only after considerable debate at the recent annual meeting of the press representatives that it was finally decided that the standing of the college and paper here were sufficiently high.

Raymond Vandruff and Robert O'Brien of the junior college here went to the press convention as Santa Ana representatives.

Through the organization it will be possible for the Santa Ana paper to benefit in the exchange of cuts and other services. According to the plan outlined by the editor-in-chief, Miss Dorothy Cartwright, the "News" here is to be issued every second week on Friday. An issue will be out Friday of this week, she said.

"It is probable that the paper will be enlarged to eight pages," the editor declared. The size of the paper is 10 by 6 inches. It is printed in Santa Ana with complete responsibility for its content and finances resting upon the staff.

Reorganization of the staff has been effected introducing the idea of a managing editor at the head. Robert O'Brien fills this position. Other editors include Miss Dorothy Cartwright, editor-in-chief; Miss Phyllis Oliver, feature editor; Miss Blanche Thompson, literary editor; Hugh Staton and John McCoy, boys' sports; Miss Addie Settle, girls' sports; and Raymond Vandruff, business manager.

BEEMEN OF SOUTH FAVOR INSPECTION

The proposed law concerning the inspection of bees, while a step in the right direction, is not entirely satisfactory, bee-men from the six southern counties decided at a meeting held in the Hall of Records building January 10. The representatives went on record as favoring some kind of inspection by the state.

A committee consisting of two men from each of the counties represented was appointed by Chairman Roy K. Bishop of Orange to continue the legislative work.

Fifty leading bee-men of Orange, San Diego, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Riverside and Ventura counties were in attendance at the meeting.

C. A. Wurth, Los Angeles, president of the California Beekeepers association, was one of the speakers, explaining the proposed new law.

WHEAT FACTS ARE TOLD OVER RADIO

MANHATTAN, Kas., Jan. 14.—Farmers within hearing distance of station KSAC, the broadcasting station of the Kansas State Agricultural college, listened to an instructive talk recently by H. G. Randall, a miller of Kansas City, and its subject was what kind of wheat the miller needs.

Summing up his talk, Randall outlined the following miller's needs in his call for high-grade wheat:

Wheat unmixed with other grains. "It is expensive for the miller to clean out corn and oats," Randall pointed out. "Grinder wheat with even a small percentage of rye results in bread which is small course and dark."

2. Wheat free from every foreign material, particularly dirt, chaff and weed seeds. "They can be cleaned out, but no one will pay top price for dirty wheat," said Randall.

3. High test weight. "Very light-weight wheat makes very poor quality flour."

4. Dry wheat. "Threshing should never be done when the straw is damp," Randall advised. "Wet wheat is light test and is almost sure to become damaged while in storage."

5. Ripe wheat. "If it has been cut green, it is light test and will make poor flour."

6. Smutless and weevil-proof wheat.

7. Wheat with a high degree of protein. "Grinding such wheat," Randall concluded, "results in a large, white fine-grained loaf of bread."

Appoints Detrick As Commissioner

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14—Charles R. Detrick, formerly state building and loan commissioner, was today appointed state insurance commissioner by Governor Richardson. Detrick succeeds George D. Squires, who was recently named state railroad commissioner. The vacancy caused by the elevation of Detrick will be filled by A. E. Falch, newspaperman of Los Gatos.

Friend Saved Mrs. Wilhemey

"Overwork, worry, no appetite, no sleep. I looked like a corpse," says Mrs. Mary Wilhemey of St. Paul, Minn., "and to add to my troubles my physician advised an operation. A friend, however, asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and you should see the improvement. I eat well, sleep well, have gained in weight and strength and feel fine." That is what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Wilhemey, and it will do as much for any suffering woman—Ady.

Stage and Screen

of the silver sheet is her portrayal of "Sandra" in the film of the same name now showing at the Yost.

Presented in this picture for the first time as a star in her own right, Miss La Marr reveals qualities of emotional acting heretofore unsuspected. The role of "Sandra," presenting a woman of dual personality, is one of the biggest and most interesting parts yet conceived for screen portrayal.

A woman of two natures, a conflict between the contented and home-loving personality and the other nature, which craves excitement, adventure and romance, "Sandra" depicts the struggle which is going on in the minds and hearts of thousands of women in all parts of the world.

Miss La Marr has given her portrayal a perfect understanding and sympathy, keeping always distinct the two characters embodied in the one woman. Her depiction of Rusty is emphasized by the impetuous, queasy and dramatic manner in which she registers the role of "Sandra," always seeking something new and never quite finding it.

ORANGE COUNTY IS BATHED IN WARM RAINS

Rain developing here at 9:30 a.m., today, offered encouragement for anticipation of a generous rainfall before the storm breaks.

The prospect of good rains also was heightened by the fact that northern and central California have been bathed by a warm rain late yesterday afternoon.

While extreme low temperatures for last night were reported from eastern sections of the southland, Orange county was not hit by the cold spell, the low point of the night being 33 degrees.

Up to noon here the rain was nothing more than a drizzle, but overcast skies indicated that more moisture would be precipitated before the day was over.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The warm rain that bathed central and northern California last night moved south today with prospects of showers in Southern California tonight or tomorrow.

Eureka had the heaviest fall, with 1.44 inches. Marks for other points were: Mount Hamilton .50; Porterville .44; Rockland .47; Red Bluff .42; Santa Rosa .33; Linden .30; Stockton .22; Merced .24; San Francisco .19 and others ranging from .18 to a trace.

Snow fell throughout Siskiyou county today. McCloud reported a foot of new snow about the base of Mount Shasta. Dunsmuir six inches in that vicinity. Snow was reported falling in the Sacramento valley as far south as Castella, turning to rain on the lower levels.

Give Illustrated Scripture Talks

The congregation and visitors of the Full Gospel Assembly, corner Sixth and French, were treated last evening to an illustrated explanation of many passages of scripture which pertains to gates, with the use of miniature gates, camels and their packs.

Mrs. R. M. Stephens, who spoke last evening, and Captain R. M. Stephens of the British navy, who have just recently returned from England and the Holy Land, will be in Santa Ana all this week. Captain Stephens will speak each morning at 10:00 a.m. and Mrs. Stephens will give an illustrated sermon each evening at 7:30 o'clock, depicting many interesting customs of the Holy Land, among which will be the Life of the Shepherd, an oriental bride, with her costumes and the native clay lamp. The betrothals and marriage ceremonies will be beautifully illustrated.

PREP LOOP ADOPTS SPRING SPORT SCHEDULE

Championship Tennis Team Expected At Poly

REPORT SQUAD STRONGEST IN RECENT YEARS

Regular Schedule Drawn Up For Boys; Girls Plan Competitive Tilts

Santa Ana high school's tennis team, on paper perhaps the most potentially powerful in the history of the net game here, was to begin its 1925 season this afternoon in a tournament against Anaheim on the Mother Colony courts.

Followers of the asphalt exercise freely predicted that this will be Santa Ana's most successful tennis season. Material for the first class lineup not only is good but action yesterday by Coast Preparatory league officials made tennis virtually a major sport. Provision was made for a full and complete schedule just as football team plays in fall. There will be no girls' division of the league, however, because tennis is not played by co-ed pupils at Long Beach, San Diego and Whittier.

A complete set of veterans is boasted by the Poly boys while the girls have two great performers of three years experience and a number of prospective meteors now in the development stage.

Here Are Poly Players

The boys who represented Poly in the tourney today were Randolph Bell, star of the local courts two years ago; Emil Foust, who is from Illinois and has established an enviable reputation for himself as a player; Keith Beisel, local veteran of two years; Jack Warner, a one-year letterman and Malcolm Isaacson, a transfer from Los Angeles high. Both of the last named players are southpaws. After basketball season, George Preble and Ray Smith, both veteran lettermen, will report for duty.

The local feminine contingent was composed of Frances ("Belle") Crocett, who two years ago captured the Southern California singles title and last year won the Dudley cup; Thelma ("Pat") Patton, a veteran of two years experience; Eva McNeil, who lacks tournament experience but is expected to make good, and Ruth Davis, formerly a Whittier high star. Annie Tarver and Charlotte Harnois will keep these players "stepping" for their positions as will Mary Jane Owens and Jean Nicholson from the junior high school.

Miss Crocett Winner

Matches are being scheduled daily on the local courts and the competition is keen for the places on the team. Last night Miss Crocett beat Miss Patton 10-8, 6-1 for the position of first singles. Miss Davis defeated Miss Tarver 6-3, 6-2 for third singles. The Misses Crocett and Patton will play first doubles and the Misses McNeil and Davis second doubles.

The boys will play in the following order: Bell, first; Foust, second; Beisel, third, and either Isaacson or Warner, fourth.

SANTA ANA B FIVE DEFEAT H. B., 37-7

Santa Ana's class "B" basketball tossers registered a 37 to 7 win over the Huntington Beach "B" five here yesterday. High honors in points go to Hurd, center, who accounted for nine of the total points.

The lineup: Santa Ana—Huntington Beach Riley (6) ... F..... (2) Sauer Nelson (8) ... F..... Higgins Hard (9) ... C..... Hoxie Ryle (4) ... G..... Richards Smith (4) ... G..... O'Neil Substitutions: For Santa Ana—Adams (2) for Riley, Roberson for Adams, Casey for Nelson, Fritz for Casey, Ehrhorn (8) for Hurd, Harter for Ehrhorn, Kimber for Ryle, Millan for Smith.

For Huntington Beach—Boyle for Hoxie, Nueman for O'Neil.

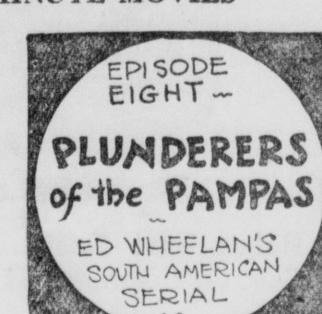

CLASS 'C' SECONDS TRIM H. B. QUINTET

Holding their opponents virtually scoreless, the Santa Ana Class C second team basketball squad defeated the Huntington Beach midgets, 8 to 2, in a game here yesterday. Preble, Borden, and Norman starred for the locals.

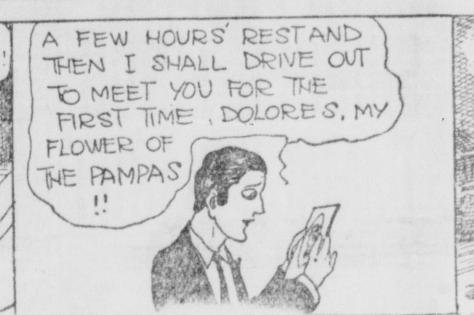

The lineup: Santa Ana—Huntington Beach Preble (10) ... F..... Walters Borden (10) ... F..... Shupe Prior (2) ... C..... Whittam Fosdick (2) ... G..... (2) Mollica Norman (10) ... G..... Drew Substitutions: For Santa Ana—Grochaw (2) for Preble, Hill (4) for Borden, Norton for Prior, Sprague for Fosdick, Labruchery for Norman.

Substitutions: For Santa Ana—Grochaw (2) for Preble, Hill (4) for Borden, Norton for Prior, Sprague for Fosdick, Labruchery for Norman. For Huntington Beach—Morris for Whittam, Young for Shupe.

YANK SHORTSTOP CONTINUES REMARKABLE 'IRON-MAN' ACT

EVERETT SCOTT

By taking the most careful care of his physical condition, Everett Scott, frail shortstop of the New York Yankees, has played 1291 consecutive games. He began his "iron-man" stint June 20, 1916, and is still at it. No position on the ball field is more dangerous to play than that of shortstop. This, coupled with the fact that Scott is far from husky, makes his endurance record the more remarkable.

TROJAN COACH JUNIORS GRAB NICE LEAD IN ROCKNE SIGNS TRACK EVENTS

Henderson Denies Columbia Overtures; Says U. S. C. Will Decide Future

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Breaking a silence that he has maintained for the past two days, Coach Elmer C. Henderson admitted yesterday that he has virtually severed his relations at the University of Southern California.

"I have not tendered my resignation but I stand ready to do so if the school is able to obtain Knute Rockne as my successor," Henderson said. "I understand that Rockne is available."

"I have not received an offer as coach at Columbia University. I have no plans for the future formulated at this time as there is no certainty what is to be done here."

From other sources, it was learned that wealthy alumni of the University of Southern California have agreed to pay Henderson in full for the two years his contract has left. Henderson receives $6,000 a season and he will be given $12,000 if Rockne accepts the Southern California offer. E. L. Doheny Jr., son of the multimillionaire oil man, is president of the Alumni association of this city.

The Notre Dame coach now receives $3,000 a season and a percentage of the gate receipts that enlarges his pay check to an estimated $12,000 per annum.

Southern California has offered the famous South Bend instructor a flat sum of $15,000 to replace Henderson. Local alumni are positive that he will accept.

KNUTE ROCKNE LEAVES S. F. FOR NOTRE DAME.

OAKLAND, Jan. 14.—Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach reported to have accepted an offer to coach the University of Southern California football team next year, paid a hurried visit to St. Mary's college here yesterday and left later in the day for Notre Dame by way of Chicago.

Charley Weinert Willing To Remeet Firpo

March 7—Santa Ana at Whittier; Long Beach at Fullerton; Pasadena at San Diego.

POLY TO OPEN TRACK SEASON AGAINST L. B.

February 28 Is First Meet Date; Begin Baseball on April 18; Fix Net Games

Complete schedules for Santa Ana high school's spring athletic activity were made public today following a meeting of Coast Preparatory League officials from San Diego, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Whittier, and Fullerton here yesterday afternoon. During the session, the first of the new year, it was voted:

1—Begin the track season Saturday, February 28.

2—Hold the Coast League meet at Long Beach April 4.

3—Begin baseball April 18.

4—Hold inter-school tennis tournaments beginning April 4 and stage a league swimming meet at Pasadena May 9.

Long Beach was awarded the All-league track and field classic, the feature meet of the b. v. d. season, when it was more fortunate than Pasadena which also put in a bid, at a toss of a coin. For this meet it was voted to limit entries for each event to three men from a single school; to count four places, five points for first, four for second, two for third and one for fourth; to award medals to all point winners and to conduct in conjunction a meet for Class C (110-pound) athletes.

Begin Season at L. B.

Schedules for the track and tennis teams will be the same as was the football arrangement, Santa Ana beginning its season against Long Beach at Long Beach. The baseball agendum calls for the six nines to open their seasons at reverse localities, Santa Ana thus remaining at home to meet Long Beach in the first contest.

In outlining their schedule for track meets, the Coast League moguls took into consideration the bustle that would be attendant at the tag end of the season when the Southern California and State Interscholastic meets are staged. Consequently the final league dual affair was set for March 28, almost a full month from the Southern California Interscholastic preliminaries. The early completion of the dual meets, it was shown, would clear the way for spring vacation and for the beginning of baseball season.

Harry J. Moore, vice-principal of the Long Beach high school and president of the Coast League, urged all schools to have their entries filed for the Coast League meet 10 days previous to the classic.

Plan Tennis Tournament
The league's decision to schedule a competitive series of tennis tournaments set a new precedent. The All-league affair will be held at Fullerton May 9 but it will not decide the championship, this being determined on the basis of points scored as follows: First singles, 4; second singles, 3; third singles, 2; fourth singles, 1; first doubles, 4; second doubles, 3.

No player will be allowed to enter more than one event in the Fullerton tournament.

After considerable discussion it was voted that Class A and B basketball teams play eight-minute quarters with two minute rests at quarters and a 10-minute interval between halves. Class C quintettes will play six minute quarters with two-minute quarter rests and 10 minutes at the half.

A summary of the schedules adopted follows:

Track

Feb. 28—Santa Ana at Long Beach; Pasadena at Whittier; Fullerton at San Diego.

March 7—Santa Ana at Whittier; Long Beach at Fullerton; Pasadena at San Diego.

March 14—San Diego at Santa Ana; Fullerton at Pasadena; Whittier at Long Beach.

March 21—Pasadena at Santa Ana; San Diego at Long Beach; Whittier at Fullerton.

NO LONGER SHY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—"The good old days of the bashful girl have passed," said Jiggle Randolph Hayes in a talk before the Mothers Society. "I am about willing to offer a prize to any good looking boy and girl over the age of 18 who can sit at opposite ends of a sofa for longer than 30 minutes."

Aside from these three places, it is going to be a come-one-come-all invitation when Branch Rickey leads his two score candidates to the training ground at Stockton, Cal.

The merriest chase will be for two infield berths, shortstop and third. Rickey has recalled Lester Bell, who knocked out a batting average of .365 with the Milwaukee club last season. He has purchased George Mackin from last year's Syracuse International leaguers.

The outfield will be bolstered by Ralph Shinners, former Giant, a sextette of additional candidates for fly chaser jobs are Blades, Smith, Hafey, Mueller, Home and Doubt.

Old "Duster" Mailis, who once basked in major league spotlights, is pointed to as Rickey's chief mound ace. Leo Dickerman, Jess Haines, Sherdel, Delaney, Dyer, Alan Sothoron, Rhem and Stuart are other ball tossers who will work out at Stockton.

BERKELEY—University of California and St. Ignatius club basketball teams clash here tonight in the first hard game the Bears have on their schedule. California has lost two starts against Olympic club and the Amblers club of Stockton this season.

ANNAPOLIS—Bill Ingram, former navy football star, who is now coaching at Indiana university, turned down an offer to coach the navy team, it was admitted by athletic officials at the academy.

WAR NOT OVER INDICATED BY SCHOOL BOOKS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The war isn't over, in Washington. In fact, it hasn't even begun.

If you don't believe it, go into the public schools of the capital and study the text books that are being used in the "education" of the city's youth.

Study particularly their histories and their geographies—for it was history and geography the late war was supposed to have changed.

There you will find that "The German Empire consists of 22 separate states" of which Prussia is the largest. That "The King of Prussia is also the emperor or czar of Germany." That "the laws are made by an imperial parliament" and so on.

Or, if your interests take you outside the status of Germany since the war, you may read that "Austria-Hungary is a monarchy," that "the emperor or czar is also the monarch of Russia."

In the geographies of the capital schools, vintage of 1914, St. Petersburg is still the capital of Russia, there is no Poland or Czechoslovakia, and the national boundaries shown on the school wall-maps are the same as before the educational Rip Van Winkles controlling the Washington schools went to sleep.

Probably there is no other city or state where such a condition exists, or could long be permitted to exist, except in Washington, District of Columbia.

It wouldn't last long here, if either Washington, or the District, had the say-so.

Washington, as a city, is merely a geographical fiction itself, its boundaries being co-extensive with those of the District.

And the District is merely a step-child of the federal government, with a paternal Congress holding the purse-strings and doling out nickels and dimes for its education, while lavishing hundreds of millions on "development" projects elsewhere where the people have votes.

The residents of Washington not only have no vote for president, they have no voice in saying what shall be spent on their schools.

That lies in the decisions of the budget bureau of the national government and the Congress.

The District can't even tax itself to buy the books that will teach its children facts instead of antiquated history. Congress says how much taxes the capital shall raise, too.

And meantime Congress laments its lack of time properly to study and digest important and fundamental national legislation.

One simple solution would seem to be to give Washington, or, properly, the District of Columbia, a reasonable measure of local self-government.

Certainly that would be less unreasonable than teaching the generation of 1925 the now obsolete history of 1915.

Cities, like children, outgrow adolescent foolishness. Washington is now old enough to be given a bit of the responsibility of its own.

And a little freedom from leading strings.

Many Americans have the erroneous idea that the monocle is a distinctive British affection. Perhaps that is due to the caricaturists, who love to draw "typical" Britishers with a lone lens glued in one eye.

Fact is, however, that the single eyeglass is a part of the wardrobe of the properly dressed gent in many of the mid-European countries.

And the most expert of the monocle men in Washington is Charles D'Afrique Nano of the Rumanian legation.

Nano disdains the usual cord or ribbon, by which the less adept attach their eyeglasses to their person. His seems actually to have grown in place. One wonders if he sleeps with it.

EXCHANGE CLUB PICKS OFFICERS

Election of Charles Swanner and George K. Scovel as president and vice-president, respectively, featured the luncheon session of the Exchange club at Kettner's cafe yesterday noon. Both men are attorneys.

The election was held due to the resignation of President Max Smith, who has moved to Beverly Hills. Swanner held the office of vice president in the club.

Both Swanner and Scovel have taken an active part in club work and are exceedingly popular with the membership. Swanner has offices in the Orange County Trust and Savings Bank building. Scovel is a member of the Head, Rutan & Scovel firm, First National Bank building. Both are charter members of the club.

A short talk on "Club Fellowship" was delivered at the meeting by Col. M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana, Lieutenant governor of the Kiwanis district. Col. Wellington declared that as a result of the luncheon clubs, men are becoming better acquainted with one another. A better feeling is evident everywhere, he said.

President Swanner expressed the hope that the local club would be able to organize an Exchange club at Anaheim. A committee to handle the matter will be appointed within the near future, Swanner said.

ANAHEIM MAYOR ISSUES DEBATE CHALLENGE TO ANTI-KLAN CANDIDATES

ANAHEIM, Jan. 14.—A challenge, in behalf of Dean Hasson, A. A. Slaback and E. E. Knipe, three councilmen whose recall is sought in the election on February 3, was given by Mayor E. H. Metcalf today to the anti-klan forces, to meet him "on a public platform and explain to the people why the four councilmen are not capable of continuing in office."

Any voter in Anaheim who is an opponent of Metcalf or his three colleagues, may enter the debate, it was stated, but it is preferred to have the five candidates put forward by the U. S. A. club, meet in argument.

Mayor Metcalf's challenge fol-

"I respectfully challenge any one of the five candidates of the U. S. A. club for the position of city trustees to a joint public discussion of the questions involved in the coming recall election. In the event that this is not accepted, the challenge is extended to any member of the U. S. A. club who is a resident voter of Anaheim and more especially to J. A. Geissinger, Thomas H. Walker, Harry D. Riley and H. A. Johnston. A prompt reply is requested and if the invitation is accepted Dr. E. E. Long will be my representative to make such preliminary arrangements as will be mutually satisfactory to all concerned.—E. H. METCALF."

EXPECT 200 TO ATTEND HARBOUR ANNUAL DINNER

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 14.—Completion of the program for the big harbor meeting Thursday evening has been announced from the office of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce. S. A. Meyer, in charge of the tickets, reports that about 200 persons are to attend and the Women's club of Costa Mesa has made preparations to banquet that number.

Word has been received from Los Angeles that the model of the Orange county and the harbor will be on hand in time for the meeting and will be placed on view for the first time on that occasion. After a short business session following the dinner, Dr. C. G. Huston, president of the Harbor chamber, will turn the meeting over to Clyde Bishop, prominent attorney of Santa Ana and city attorney of Newport Beach, who will act as toastmaster.

There will be much music, including songs by Mrs. F. W. Slbaugh of Santa Ana, violin solo by Miss Emma Hardy of Newport Beach, and songs by W. H. Jones of Pasadena. The Harbor Community orchestra, under the direction of Conductor Revill of Santa Ana, will play during the dinner. There will also be community singing led by W. L. Jones.

Among the speakers who will address the meeting are Judge L. F. Coburn of Orange, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce; Dr. Conrad Richter, member of the board of trustees of Newport Beach; H. A. Lake, chairman of the Orange County Harbor commission; Judge J. Rhodes Hervey of Los Angeles, and Gene Lansing H. Beach, former chief of the federal board of engineers.

The dinner will be served at 6:15 p. m., and tickets are still available from members of the various committees.

TURTON READY TO QUIT CLUB IN KLAN FIGHT

MUCH FRUIT IS SHIPPED: FINDS DAMAGE SLIGHT

ANAHEIM, Jan. 14.—Declaring that he always "finished whatever he started," Harry L. Turton, candidate for councilman on the Klan ticket to oppose Godfrey Stock, present city trustee, at the recall election on February 3, today announced that he would withdraw from the Kiwanis club, rather than withdraw from his political race. This decision came following the resolution adopted by the Kiwanis club yesterday in which it was stated that since Turton was a candidate on the Klan ticket, it would be requested that he withdraw from the candidacy or the club.

This action by the Kiwanis resulted from the adoption of a resolution recently in which the club demanded that members of the Klan who were Kiwanians either resign from the Klan or the club. While Turton is declared to not be a member of the hooded order, the club believed that, since he was supported by the Klan, their action in the case was warranted.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 14.—James Smith was elected president of the Endeavor Society of the Christian church here Monday evening when the members of the organization met at the church for the annual election of officers. Smith succeeds Schuyler Pann.

Other officers elected at the meeting were: Miss Pearl Dowty, vice president; Miss Leota Funderburg, secretary, and William Hengold, treasurer. Special committees were appointed by the new president.

William Birky, of Whittier, one of the officers of the district or organization of Endeavor societies, was an honor guest at the meeting.

Brea

BREA, Jan. 14.—A. J. Severson has sold his interest in the Obear and Severson Drug Store to A. S. Close of Los Angeles. Severson will move to Huntington Beach where he will enter business. C. Hartman. Mrs. Severson is the president of the Brea grammar school Parent-Teachers' association. Severson will take his present employee with him, Frank Rubbles, and Leo Hitchcock, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kiger, all of Brea, Katherine and Billy Keith of Whittier.

Guarantee to Grow Hair

Stop Falling Hair — or Money Refunded

THERE has been a mistaken idea about hair growth. Authorities now say the hair has no root. It grows from a bulb. Hairs may get sick, weak and fall out. But the hair bulb rarely dies in the early stages. It merely becomes inactive — a plain bulb in winter. Revive these inactive hair bulbs and hair grows again.

Now a new method of treating the scalp accomplishes this result. It wakes up sluggish, inactive hair bulbs. It stops falling hair. Money back if it fails.

Hair Bulbs Revived

The principle of this treatment is now scientifically correct. Leading dermatologists agree on this point. It stimulates circulation of blood in the scalp — providing nourishment to the hair beds. It causes each hair to grow from its hair follicle allowing new hair to push through. It destroys harmful bacteria. It regulates the oil glands so uniformly that each hair bulb simultaneously each of the four causes to which 90% of all hair bulb inactivity is due. Hence its remarkable success.

New Hair or No Money

No matter what your condition or financial status you have used unsuccessfully, we urge you to test STIM SCALP TREATMENT. It revives inactive hair bulbs. Stop falling hair. Grows new hair. This treatment may seem incredible but remember we assume the risk. We guarantee results or we refund your money without question. Our written guarantee gives every purchase protects you fully. STIM leaves no after odor — no oil — no grease. Santas Co., Sta. W., Brooklyn, N.Y.

DESCRIBES TRIP TO HAWAII, SOUTH SEAS

A few of the high lights of a seven months' trip that took him to Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand and the South Sea Islands, were detailed in a talk yesterday by Elmer Jahraus, Laguna Beach, at the weekly luncheon of the Santa Ana Rotary club, of which he is a member. Ladies were guests at yesterday's meeting.

The program for the meeting was in charge of O. M. Robbins. Jahraus' address followed two much appreciated solos by Mrs. H. B. Van Dien.

Jahraus told of some of the activities aboard ship on the journey that he and his daughter, Miss Pauline Jahraus, took across the Pacific. Jahraus was chosen to represent King Neptune in the ceremonies at the crossing of the equator.

Jahraus said that he had opportunity to visit numerous native villages and to become acquainted with native customs, in the South Seas.

THRIFT WEEK WILL START ON SATURDAY

Thrift week will be off to a flying start on next Saturday, when the birthday anniversary of Benjamin Franklin signals the opening of this special observance which so strongly emphasizes the principles of economy which Franklin advocated.

According to Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., all arrangements have been completed for the observance of the week.

With speakers scheduled for dozens of meetings, the committee which is handling the speakers' bureau is prepared to scatter the thrift message all over the county. This committee consists of Harry Hansen, H. B. Van Dien and R. R. Miller. Working in conjunction with A. L. Olinger of the Chamber of Commerce, and A. M. Stanley of the farm bureau, this committee is undertaking to furnish speakers for all farm center meetings during the next ten days, as well as for many events in Santa Ana and vicinity.

A vigorous campaign of publicity is planned by the committee comprising Guy Gilbert, O. M. Robbins, and A. L. Olinger. This committee has provided a large supply of posters presenting the Thrift week idea, and is also handling a program of newspaper publicity which will carry the teachings of thrift wherever the newspapers are read.

"Thrift week," R. C. Smedley stated, "was originated by the Y.M.C.A. as a part of its service to men and boys because the association believed that the idea of thrift is a sound one when applied to every part of the life. It means vastly more than saving or spending money. It includes time, talents, life itself, in its relation to the young man. We want to help him to invest his life wisely as well as to take good care of his earnings. But the money part of the thrift program is the most obvious and the most popular, and it is the item which naturally gets most of the emphasis. Even so, if we can convince the young folks of America that it is worth their while to 'work and earn,' we shall have made a worth while contribution to our national progress."

A hurried telephone call to Huntington Beach police followed and them an was taken off the train. Unknown to Orange county officers, the man was brought to Santa Ana. He was later identified as Whitehead, the rightful owner of the plane.

"The moral to this story," said Dan Adams today, "is to always notify the police when something is stolen from you and then, if you recover it yourself, notify them you have found it. In that way you may eliminate being arrested yourself."

It later developed that Whitehead, who police say gave his name as Johnson at Balboa, had located the stolen plane himself and had gone to Balboa to make the boy who are alleged to have stolen it aid him in assembling the plane. They had just completed the assembling job when Whitehead crashed into the house. The crash was quickly followed by his arrest.

SWING AND LUCE IN PARTNERSHIP

Cards were received in Santa Ana today from San Diego announcing the formation of a law partnership by Edgar A. Luce, former judge of the superior court of San Diego county, and Congressman Phil D. Swing, former judge of the superior court of Imperial county. The firm name is to be Luce and Swing, with offices in the Commonwealth building, San Diego. Associated with the firm are M. A. Luce and J. W. Lenahan.

Swing, at the last election, was elected for another two-year term as congressman from this district.

Committees from the chambers of commerce at Santa Ana, Garden Grove and Hansen will meet tomorrow morning at Cypress at 9 o'clock to make a survey of the physical conditions along the Orange county portion of the proposed new highway paralleling the Pacific Electric tracks between Santa Ana and Watts, it was announced today by Alfred Hansen, chairman of the committee empowered to call the committee together.

Those who have been notified to meet at the appointed hour are J. L. McBride, F. J. Was and Freeman Bloodgood, Santa Ana, and H. A. Lake, J. O. Arkley, C. B. Henry, C. G. Crosby, Vernon King and T. E. Pickrell, Garden Grove.

According to the committee chairman the group will drive over the route and make observations of buildings and other improvements along the south side of the railway tracks between Santa Ana and the county line.

It is proposed to locate the road between 300 and 600 feet south of the tracks. The distance to be recommended will be governed by conditions along the way that will be noted during the inspection trip.

In a general way those who have been active in the movement have expressed preference for location of the highway 600 feet from the tracks. They point out that with such width between the road and the tracks opportunity would be offered for splendid industrial sites, easily accessible to both rail and motor truck transportation.

The new road is being promoted as a more direct route from Santa Ana to Los Angeles and as a main highway between the two cities.

EVENING SALUTATION

The only cure for indolence is work; the only cure for selfishness is sacrifice; the only cure for unbelief is to shake off theague of doubt by doing Christ's bidding; the only cure for timidity is to plunge into some dreaded duty before the chill comes on.

—Samuel Rutherford.

THE GRAND JURY REPORT

In language that should be understood, without the slightest evidence of bias or vindictiveness, the grand jury has given to the residents of Orange county, and others who may be interested, a concise report of its findings in relation to its investigations into charges that the district attorney's office has failed in its duty as a public prosecutor in bootlegger activities.

"Much injustice has been done by groundless accusations made at public meetings, and we hope that this report will carry to the citizens of Orange county the fact that we find these charges were not sustained," says the grand jury statement, which appears in full elsewhere in today's Register.

This report, signed by nineteen well known men and women of this county, called to grand jury service by the superior court of this county and not of their own choice, carries conviction. The straight-forward manner in which the grand jury states its conclusions in itself is refreshing. There has been so much insinuation, so much accusation, so much suspicion and so many extreme charges made that a statement that shows no animosity brings an immediate response in the way of commendation. The Ku Klux Klan sentiment and the anti-Ku Klux Klan incident have figured quite prominently in incidents leading up to the grand jury investigation and during it. The grand jury touched upon neither, and in that it showed a world of good judgment. Its job as a grand jury was to find out if public officials were recalcitrant in their duty, as had been charged time and again in public meetings in this county. Its findings were stated without reference to the Ku Klux Klan or to those who do not agree with the Ku Klux Klan or its activities in this county.

HARTRANFT ON THE JOB

It is with satisfaction that the many friends of S. C. Hartranft, Assemblyman from this county, have noted his introduction into his official duties at Sacramento. We have known Mr. Hartranft as an able, active citizen, and have recognized in him a man who ought to be of real usefulness to his county and state as a legislator at Sacramento. Announcements made yesterday show that Mr. Hartranft has been given committee appointments in the Assembly that will give him opportunity to be of real service.

Mr. Hartranft has been made chairman of the education committee of the Assembly, one of the most important committees. To that committee will be referred all measures having to do with educational matters. Having spent many years of his life as a school teacher and college instructor and having also long been a school trustee in his county, Mr. Hartranft is well suited to the chairmanship of this committee. In that position, too, he will have an opportunity to give substantial aid to the measures sought by Orange county school leaders by which a county junior college may be established.

Membership on the reapportionment committee, the governmental revenues and expenditures committee and the banking committee are also listed as appointments given Mr. Hartranft. Upon each of these committees, Mr. Hartranft's experience and ability will be made to count.

POOR LIGHTING

The Eyesight Conservation Council of America has found through its various investigations that, out of 42,000,000 persons gainfully employed in this country 25,000,000 are handicapped by defective vision. Improper lighting facilities in schools, factories and places of business have frequently been blamed for this condition.

A group of illuminating engineers in one city, whose business it is to know what correct lighting is, and who must know, too, a good deal about the sort of lighting used in their community, place the blame more specifically.

"Poor lighting in factories is responsible for very little of this," they say. "Most factories nowadays are awake to the business value of good lighting and there is little cause for complaint except in a few cases."

"Practically all homes have enough lights, but the people don't know how to use them."

That seems to mean that any given home has enough equipment for adequate lighting, but that the light fixtures and lamps of whatever kind, are not illuminate a room evenly. They do not furnish illuminate a room evenly. They do not furnish enough light at the right spot for special work such as reading, writing or sewing. They are not suitably shaded to prevent glare.

Partly this may be due to the builder of the house. Partly it is due to the ignorance or carelessness of the people dwelling in it. Here is a fine job of public education for altruistic illuminating engineers.

If the children under 18 could vote on that amendment, how would they vote?

WHO OWNS GREAT LAKES?

The decision of the United States Supreme court against Chicago's diversion of 10,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan through a drainage canal, declaring it illegal, is a more important one than many citizens have realized.

Chicago has been taking this tremendous amount of water to aid it in the disposal of its sewage. It has been shown that the withdrawal of so much water from Lake Michigan has lowered the general level of all the Great Lakes except Superior as much as six inches, seriously affecting shipping.

The supreme court points out that this is a matter not of local welfare and convenience, but of national and international import. Chicago's claim that the United States has no right to determine the amount of water that shall flow through the channel or the manner of its flow is therefore denied. In the report read by Chief Justice Taft, the court declares:

"This is not a controversy between equals. The United States is asserting its sovereign power to regulate commerce and the control of navigable waters within its jurisdiction. It has a standing in this suit not only to remove obstructions to interstate and foreign commerce, but also to carry out our treaty obligations to a foreign power bordering upon some of

Southern Branch Activities

Riverside Enterprise. With the knowledge just available to the general public that a committee of citizens has been working for nearly two months on a new site for the Southern Branch of the University of California, to be recommended to the board of regents in February, the scramble for the presentation of sites has taken on a new activity. There are at least 16 of these being offered, with little, if any prospect of anything being chosen excepting within or near the city limits of Los Angeles. The whole thing was brought to a head by the activities of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee in making it impossible to move the department of citrusiculture and advanced work in sub-tropical horticulture from Berkeley to the citrus experiment station in Riverside.

This opposition came because of the fear that a new college of agriculture might be built up in Riverside. This was desired for the Southern Branch and when it was determined that such a college could not be located at the present site in Los Angeles, the other communities of Southern California, with the exception of Riverside, were urged to present sites to the regents and to oppose the extension of the citrus station, which most of them did. With all of the activity that has been stirred up, the board of regents could, if they would, consider the 700 acres they already own in Riverside. There is no expectation that this committee, dominated by Los Angeles people will consider such a proposal, however, owing to its distance from the metropolis, although it is not far from the geographical center of Southern California.

There are plenty of educational leaders who will advance arguments that an environment such as exists at Riverside is preferable for a university to a site dominated by a great city, with all of its temptations and distractions.

There is also plenty of speculation as to when there will be any possibility of a new group of southern branch buildings built on a new site. If they are not secured by legislative appropriation, which isn't likely, at this session, they will have to come as the result of a bond issue, which would probably be held at the next state election.

Tourists Coming Now

Pasadena Star-News. The falsehoods about Southern California, spread through the East and Middle West, have been too palpable and too stupid to influence intelligent folk. The answer to these detractions is a great influx of tourists. They are coming in great numbers, with many special trains arriving, and more to come.

It should be remembered that many thousands of intelligent persons, representing a great many different localities in all parts of the country, have been to California one or more times, and are conversant with general conditions here. These folk, being intelligent and fair, have known all along that the reports about conditions here have been either exaggerated or made out of untruths. They have not been influenced by these fantastic and gruesome fabrications. And most of them have passed the word along to their friends and acquaintances who have not been in California. In this way, these slanders have been refuted, in large measure, as they flew along.

Many old friends of California are coming for the winter. They will pass the good news back to the home locality that this Southland is as sound and attractive as it ever has been, and that it has been maligned grossly and outrageously.

Oil Found In Alaska

Long Beach Press-Telegram. Alaska is promising another form of rich development. Oil discoveries have been made at Coal Harbor, in the southern part of the Alaskan peninsula. The Standard Oil company is drilling a test well which is now down 3200 feet. The oil sand is just below this depth, it is said. It is believed that from oil Alaska will realize another great accession to its developed riches.

Once regarded as a hopelessly barren and inhospitable wilderness, Alaska has developed into one of the richest regions in natural resources, in the Western Hemisphere. Besides minerals it has extensive forests. Its fisheries are important. And its agricultural possibilities are of sufficient magnitude to be considered worth while. Furthermore, Alaska is becoming popular as a summer resort, and travel to that far Northland is increasing steadily during the summer season.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

OVERWEIGHT AND INSULIN

I have spoken of Dr. Banting the discoverer of Insulin more than once, because I've had the opportunity of watching the results of his work at close hand. His discovery was due to patient and hard work, but with his eye always on the goal—to get the sugar used up by the body instead of being thrown out by the urine,—because the blood was not thrown out by the urine.

But there is one point to remember in most of the cases of diabetes, and that is that it usually occurs in fat stout people. These folks begin to feel week or lazy as their friends call it and aside from the drinking of great quantities of water, appear to be in fair health, for a time at least. However as their weakness continues, and a gradual loss of flesh occurs, together with the terrible thirst, the family doctor is consulted. Of course the examination of the urine always gives the diagnosis, because the sugar is found therein.

You see a fat or stout person, not always, but very often is less inclined to exercise, although his appetite may keep up in good shape. Unfortunately also he usually wants to eat the kind of foods that will increase his weight, that is butter, cream, fat meat, potatoes and bread. A little less of all kinds of food would be wise, although the lean meats and green vegetables produce less fat than these other foods. But the thing to remember is that while Insulin is a great boon to the diabetic, in that it enables his blood to take care of the sugar and thus maintain his strength, nevertheless it is a crutch and to be used if the patient is to be kept alive.

While a few of the younger people have diabetes, it is essentially an ailment of middle age, when the appetite for food is strong, but the appetite for work or exercise is weak. Further, at least ninety per cent of the victims are "fat." So if you wish to avoid this ailment of middle life, don't allow yourself to put on too much weight. If you find yourself more than ten pounds overweight for your age and height, gradually, very gradually, decrease your food intake, and increase gradually your exercise, whatever form it may take. Don't worry about it, and don't hurry about it, but do it if it takes you a whole year to accomplish it.

The supreme court points out that this is a matter not of local welfare and convenience, but of national and international import. Chicago's claim that the United States has no right to determine the amount of water that shall flow through the channel or the manner of its flow is therefore denied. In the report read by Chief Justice Taft, the court declares:

"This is not a controversy between equals. The United States is asserting its sovereign power to regulate commerce and the control of navigable waters within its jurisdiction. It has a standing in this suit not only to remove obstructions to interstate and foreign commerce, but also to carry out our treaty obligations to a foreign power bordering upon some of

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

WHEN you've got a bit of worry that is clinging to your mind, it's upsetting to a fellow as can be. So, it's true you'll always hurry till somebody you can find will listen and give a bit of sympathy. Why is it you feel much better when you've bared your little fret, no one seems to know or even seems to care. But if you have been a fretter, I will lay an even bet, that you've ached to lay your little worry bare. In a corner you will lie you and you'll tell your tale of woe. Then you'll always feel much better, you will find. As your listless sit close by you will always seem to know that he's helping you get worry off your mind.

Who's the fellow whom you yearn to have just listen to your fret? Who's the one on whom you feel you can depend? Who's the fellow whom you turn to and who'll always gladly let you tell your tale of woe? Why, he's a friend!

Freight By Truck

San Bernardino Sun

Indications are the state legislature at Sacramento will wrestle with the truck problem as it relates to the highway. It must therefore resort to trucks and that section of this county is of course interested in the truck.

California needs a definite and constructive policy that will do justice both to the truck operators and to the public. The railroads have a private interest in the situation but it is somewhat doubtful that it is a public interest and it need not have not have an undue part in the consideration of the problem.

Undoubtedly the truck and bus competition has been disastrous to some classes of railroad traffic and industries more interested in proper handling of transcontinental freight than in the short or local hauls are aligned with the railroads in the sentiment involving the damage the truck has done to steam line finances.

But the great bulk of the public is convinced of two things that do not relate to the competitive angle. The trucks are largely responsible for the rapid deterioration of paved highways, and there is an increasing sentiment that the trucks that do this damage do not pay their share in taxes.

San Bernardino county voted $1,750,000 for highways and the people who are paying for these bonds now know these pavements will be worn out long before the bonds are paid. Heavily loaded trucks from Imperial Valley, for instance, batter their way over highways of this county, carrying even such produce as cotton to Los Angeles. This county cannot see that it has any interest at all in cotton en route from Imperial County to Los Angeles. But it has a substantial interest in the rapidity with which the highways used by these heavily loaded trucks are breaking up and the amount of money necessary each year to keep them passable.

The railroads are the beneficiaries of the sentiment that such Imperial county produce should be shipped by steam line, but this thought is held by people who are not concerning themselves with the railroads.

The truck serves a highly important part in industry and agriculture and no one wants to see it legislated from the highways. Yucaipa Valley, for instance, produces vast quantities of apples and no

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 3.—WHAT HAPPENED IN BOBBY'S ROOM

All the little wooden ark animals called out together, "We want to be real."

"Real," laughed the Fairy Queen. "Well that is a funny wish."

"I don't care," growled the little striped yellow tiger. "I'm tired of being made of wood and I want to be big like a real tiger."

"So do I!" roared the little wooden lion.

"Me too," whinnied the horse.

"And me!" said the elephant.

"Whatever my friends do, I do even if Bobby would still be my friend if I were real."

"What would you do?" asked the Fairy Queen turning to the Twins.

"Perhaps they have another wish you could grant," said Nancy.

"Have you?" asked the Fairy Queen.

The animals put their heads together and whispered.

"No," said the wooden elephant finally.

"So should all of us," said all the little wooden animals.

The Fairy Queen laughed. "I have a real surprise for you," she said kindly. "Since you like children so well, I know exactly what I am going to do."

MISSING FOURTH

A man once rented a plot of ground to a negro neighbor, upon which corn was to be planted, and at harvest time therewas to be received a fourth of the yield. Meeting the negro during harvest time, he asked:

"Look here, Sam, have you harvested the corn?"

"Yes, sir, boss, long ago!"

"Well, wasn't I to get one-fourth?"

"Yes, boss, that's the truth, but there wasn't no fourth! Dey was jes three loads, and dey was mine."—Christian Register.
